ESPRESSO MARTINI

READY TO DRINK

VODKA, COFFEE LIQUEUR

22% ABV

LE BARTELEUR'S TWIST: DARK CHOCOLATE

LONDON 1983

Inspired by the Vodka Martini from which it is derived, the Espresso Martini was shaken for the first time in London's Soho Brasserie. Its creator Dick Bradsell is said to have been inspired by the coffee machine located next to the station where he served drinks and perhaps even by a supermodel wanting a cocktail that would wake her up. A win-win outcome!

HANKY PANKY

READY TO DRINK

GIN, RED VERMOUTH, AMARO

23.5% ABV

LE BARTELEUR'S TWIST: GINGER TONIC

LONDON 1925

Invented on a London night. During the roaring twenties, Ada Coleman, head bartender at the Savoy Hotel, created an iconic cocktail which became an absolute reference for her peers. The cocktail was created for the actor Charles Hawtrey, who loved it. Hanky Panky was created and made to enchant.

MARGARITA

READY TO DRINK

TEQUILA, TRIPLE SEC, LIME

27% ABV

LE BARTELEUR'S TWIST: REFRESHING GRAPEFRUIT

ACAPULCO 1948

Lulled by her Mexican heritage in the mundane dinners organized for her husband, a wealthy businessman, the American Margarita Sames has bequeathed her name to her creation, a fresh and refreshing blend served to her guests. In her Acapulco home, the most tropical of cocktails was born for eternity.

PORNSTAR MARTINI

READY TO DRINK

VODKA, PASSION FRUIT LIQUEUR, VANILLA LIQUEUR

18% ABV

LE BARTELEUR'S TWIST: SWEET MANGO

LONDON 1999

Actually created under the name Maverick Martini, it was Douglas Ankrah, owner of the LAB bar in London, who made this cocktail an international success in the 2000s. Renamed Pornstar Martini by its creator, this delicious drink made with passion fruit immediately sparked the public's curiosity. Since then, this brazen creation has earned its place among the greats.
